Script : Alex : Hey Benny, did you know that headlands are formed by destructive waves? Benny : Seriously? You mean the kind that handles all sorts of stones that corrodes the original landscape to form cliffs? Alex : That's right. Don't forget, that the solution of the seawater also adds to the destructive force of the waves. Besides that, a headland usually means that there's good surfing waves nearby. Benny : Yes, the ones near the beach, not the cliffs. The beach is caused by...	Comments :
